HOMEGROWN FESTIVAL – ONLY TWO WEEKS LEFT

HOMEGROWN 2009 has so far seen a vast array of events, including cooking demonstrations and home grown menus, to art trails and art workshops as well as live music, markets, food trails and the inaugural tractor bash. For those who haven't yet had a chance to get involved, you haven't missed out.

With an evening of cabaret, two cooking demonstrations, a night of just jamming, a poetry evening as well as more live music, home grown menus and the final HOMEGROWN festival party, we trust you take the opportunity to get out and enjoy.

Tourism Coromandel's, Events Manager Megan Etherington points out 'This years festival has to date been a great success. We have had some fantastic feedback from both festival organisers and participants, and only hope it continues as we move into the last couple of weeks. Last year's festival saw just on 30 events and this year we have almost 60 which make up the month long celebration.

A full program can be viewed on the website www.homegrownfestival.co.nz
